

First Draft

John walked through the woods. He saw a little deer lying beside a log. It didn't run when John got closer. John looked down at the deer. He realized that its leg was broken. It was bent at an angle. John felt bad. He went home and called his neighbor who is a veterinarian. He asked his neighbor to come and get the deer to help him. John was worried about the deer.

Final Draft

