

A Special Day/Time at the State Fair

Late one October afternoon my friend Donnie and I went to the State Fair. His mom and grandmother drove us. On the way there we stopped to get a Coke and some crunchy cheese crackers. I knew we were going to have a great time.

When we got there, we stood in line behind a lady with twins that were two years old. They were really cute little boys. They tried to get everything out of their mother's pocketbook because they were so bored. As soon as we got into the park, we went to ride the roller coaster. It went really fast. We got scared. It seemed to go faster and faster when we went straight down and around curves.

We got off that ride and went straight to the log ride. That ride was lots of fun. When we got off we were soaking wet. After we ate lunch we rode the Vortex. It was huge and real exciting. We screamed like crazy. Next we went to the exhibits. We went because Donnie's grandmother wanted to see all the flowers and home-made jelly. It was very boring to me and Donnie. They looked at every single flower that was there. I was mad at them for staying so long. Then we ate some chocolate fudge. It was delicious because it had so many pecans in it. It was so sweet that I drank my Coke in about two seconds. Then we went to Donnie's car and left the State Fair. That was a very special time with my friend.
