

Lords Proprietors graphic organizer

BY PAULINE S. JOHNSON

This activity will support students' comprehension as they read the article "The Lords Proprietors¹."

The Lords Proprietors of Carolina

Name	Title	Why was he made a Proprietor?	Places named after him

The Lords Proprietors of Carolina (teacher guide)

Name	Title	Why was he made a Proprietor?	Places named after him
Edward Hyde	1st Earl of Clarendon	Close advisor of Charles I, joined Charles II in exile	Clarendon County, SC
George Monck	1st Duke of Albemarle	Captain-general (leader of the military) for Charles II	Albemarle Sound; Albemarle County, NC; 1st settlement in NC
William Craven	Lord Craven (later 1st Earl of Craven)	Helped Charles II financially	Craven County, NC
John Berkeley	Baron Berkeley	Good friend of Charles II
Anthony Ashley-Cooper	Baron Ashley (later 1st Earl of Shaftesbury)	Helped Charles II get his throne; Chancellor of the Exchequer	Ashley and Cooper Rivers near Charleston, SC (not in article)
George Carteret	Baronet	Proclaimed Charles II king, when Charles I was executed; Vice-Chamberlain of the Household	Carteret County, NC
William Berkeley	Knight	Was a friend of Charles I
John Colleton	Later made a baronet	Supported Charles I in the English Civil War

On the web

More from LEARN NC

Visit us on the web at www.learnnc.org to learn more about topics related to this article, including Anthony Ashley-Cooper, Duke of Albemarle, Earl of Clarendon, Edward Hyde, George Carteret, George Monck, John Berkeley, John Colleton, Lord Ashley, Lords Proprietors, North Carolina, South Carolina, William Berkeley, William Craven, graphic organizers, history, and social studies.

Notes

1. See <http://www.learnnc.org/lp/editions/nchist-colonial/1.5>.

About the author

PAULINE S. JOHNSON

I am currently the Director of a Teaching American History Grant for Buncombe County Schools, Asheville City Schools, and Madison County Schools. I have taught history and English in the seventh and eighth grades for over twenty-six years at Reynolds Middle School in Asheville, North Carolina. I am currently doing adjunct work for Mars Hill College and Western Carolina University. I have a Masters Degree from Western Carolina University and am Nationally Board Certified in Early Adolescence/Social Studies-History. I am certified to teach K-12 and I also have Academically-Intellectually Gifted certification.